

Talking Points for the Final

- Dilemma —
a dilemma is when a difficult choice has to be made between at least two possibilities,
usually equally undesirable possibilities
- Omnivore —
a person or animal that can eat both plants and animals for food (The worksheet for Pollan further defines terms like vegetarian, vegan, herbivore, and carnivore.)
- Ethical Decisions and Responsibility — the process of evaluating and choosing something with the desire to do what is right regardless of the cost
- Consumption (food and in general) —
the using up of a resource (food or other materials); the total amount of food that is available to eat in a town/state/nation; the total amount of food a person eats;
- Conviction —
a firmly held belief or opinion
- Production and/or Products —
the process of making something
- Moral Justifications —
a process of evaluation where a person attempts to make a morally questionable act seem right
- Culture —
the customs of a particular people, nation, or other social group